Nielsen panel calls for more state authority

By STEVE HART
Staff Writer

Community colleges will lose much of their independence if Sacramento lawmakers adopt sweeping recommendations of a state task force commissioned to study the 106-campus system.

The task force, set up by Sen. Jim Nielsen, R-Rohnert Park, wants to give the colleges' statewide board of governors far-reaching authority to determine campus policies, allocate funds and select college presidents.

MARKETING YOUR LEADERSHIP SKILLS
PERSONAL SKILLS ASSESSMENT REVIEW

In reviewing your answers on the "Personal Skills Assessment", remember that for each competency listed, you should be able to determine which of the following three categories applies:

1. ASSET: You are highly skilled in this competency and very satisfied with your level.
2. OPPORTUNITY: You are not especially skilled in this competency and would like to further develop this area.
3. INSIGNIFICANT: You are not skilled in this competency, but it is of little importance to you.

The real value of this personal assessment lies in reviewing each of the 51 competencies, categorizing it into the three categories listed above, and reviewing: (1) the learning experiences which you have had to help you develop the particular ASSET, and (2) the learning experiences which you can plan to have which will enable you to turn an OPPORTUNITY into an ASSET. Don't invest any time in the INSIGNIFICANT.

We will not have time in this workshop to have you go through this exercise with each competency. We hope that you will see the value of doing that on your own. To give you a feel for it, though, please complete the following:

LIST YOUR TWO STRONGEST ASSETS

WHAT LEARNING EXPERIENCES HAVE CONTRIBUTED TO DEVELOPING THIS ASSET

LIST TWO OPPORTUNITIES

WHAT LEARNING EXPERIENCES WOULD

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

July 15, 1987

TO: MEMBERS, BOARD OF TRUSTEES
SRJC STAFF

FROM: ROY G. MIKALSON

SUBJECT: LOCAL AND STATE UPDATE

The news locally and at the State level is positive, especially when one considers the dramatic cuts the Governor made in the budget sent him by the Legislature, the loss of $1.1 billion of state revenue for budget purposes (to be returned to the taxpayers) and the demands on public funds by agencies other than education.

At Santa Rosa Junior College 1986-87 was one of our best ever years: our program quality was uniformly excellent, departments, programs and individuals won many national and state awards (to be detailed in the Annual Report), our reputation for excellence is generally recognized locally and throughout California, and our enrollment (which makes much of this possible) was outstanding (as illustrated by the five-year ADA summary on the back of this page) -- overall we grew 911 ADA (544 in credit and 367 in non-credit).

This quality and productivity should combine to make 1987-88 even better, with the help of budget resources provided by the Governor and Legislature. For your information, I have included a brief summary of the Governor's allocations and deletions.

Budget details include:

1. 3.4% ($66.4 million) general apportionment full-year COLA and equalization;
2. 3.4% ($1.8 million) for EOPS and DSPS full-year COLA;
3. 2.1% ($26.1 million) growth funding for population change;
4. $19.0 million to fund 1987-88 district base revenue for unfunded 1986-87 ADA growth;
5. $11.0 million for funding ADA above cap in Basic Skills courses;
6. $10.0 million for funding ADA above cap generated by GAIN students;
7. $21 million for matriculation for purchase of necessary EDP equipment and systems and for half-year costs for student services;

8. $12.5 million for full-year Board Financial Aid Program (BFAP) for students who cannot pay fee to comport with the extension of current enrollment fee;
9. $52 million for instructional equipment replacement and library materials (3/1 match);]
10. $15.0 million for Deferred Maintenance (1/1 match);
11. $5.0 million for hazardous substances containment or removal;
12. $1.1 million for learning disabled student assessment and academic support;
13. $2.9 million base reduction for PERS 1987-88 rate reduction; and,
14. No stability funding for 1986-87 ADA decline.

This budget could be the turning point in getting sufficient funding for California's community colleges. It represents a real step forward by Governor Deukmejian. I hope all who read this will take time to write him a letter thanking him for the support.

Santa Rosa Junior College is in excellent position to start another year: we have quality, an image of excellence, growing enrollment, more than adequate resources, and above all an outstanding staff.

I thank you for the results which are shown in the 1986-87 column of the Summary Report, which puts us in such an excellent position to benefit from the 1987-88 budget signed by the Governor.

We can all look forward to making 1987-88 another outstanding year for the students we serve.

LEADERSHIP RETREATS

Presented by: Mark Champagne at NACA Drive-In Workshop
at Mills College 4/19/86

BASIC ASSUMPTIONS FOR WHY LEADERSHIP RETREATS ARE VITAL!

1. Student governments have an inherent responsibility for training and developing students and staff.
2. Training in student government setting is conducted for a group which is primarily task-oriented, i.e., there are certain action expectations and definite goals to be accomplished. (For example, the union Program Council has a definable task of coordinating programs for a specific population.)
3. Leadership Retreats create "teamwork" that will help the organization reach its overall goal.
4. Student leaders receiving training in student government have "in-turn" responsibility for the functioning of another group, i.e., a Program Council with chairpersons responsible for the functioning of other groups, such as their respective committees.
5. Participation in some form of training is an expectation for the individuals who become a part of the organization.
6. Training is closely linked to the values of the institution, the organization and the individuals involved.

Overall Goal of a Leadership Retreat: To enable participants to develop maximum competence in order to achieve the goals of the organization most effectively.

Specific Goals or Objectives:

RE: 1987 Leadership Retreat

Happy Salutations! 😊 Hopefully you've received a small memo in your mailbox alluding to our festivities. Coming up this month is our 2nd Annual Leadership Retreat Friday September 25 thru Sunday September 27th. The location of this retreat will be the beautiful and secluded Point Bonita on the Marin Headlands about an hour's drive from the J.C. We've invited a good number of people, including some individuals outside of C.S.A., and hope as well as encourage all C.S.A. members to attend.

Some of the items you will need to bring include a sleeping bag, towels, clothes, etc and if you would like to leave an emergency number where you can be reached it is as follows: 1-415-331-9622. We'll take care of the food and lodging so money is not really necessary aside from maybe a little something for snacks and the like.

We will be carpooling down and arranging drivers and rides by next week. However, plan to leave the Student Activities Office at 5:00 p.m. (SHARP) on Friday and returning back to the S.A.O. at about 4:00 p.m. on Sunday.

Basically, the purpose of this retreat is to meet and get to know your "co-workers", share ideas and thoughts, learn about different aspects of leadership and of course, have lots o' fun!!

If you have any questions please ASK.

SEE YOU THERE!!

a. Faculty Profile: A faculty profile consists of five questions that are asked to the full time teachers on campus. These answers are then offered to the student, so he/she can choose the teacher that best fits his needs and wants. Last semester there was only a 7% response which was too small to publish. This year Henningsen is hoping for at least a 50% response, so that he can publish the results.

b. There is a Board Meeting tonight at 7:30. Mr Maker encouraged everyone to come and meet the College Board members.

Dear

Bob

Just a reminder to let you know about our retreat plans. I didn't see your name on the sign-up list so I thought perhaps you missed our first meeting. Please read the enclosed letter and schedule of events.

A few logistics: bring warm clothes that you can layer on and off at your comfort, also, bring a pillow if you so desire. We won't be served dinner on Friday night so be sure to eat a big lunch or early dinner. We will though, be having snacks that night.

And lastly---we hope you'll join us!!

THANKS,

The Retreat Committee

P.S. It occurred to me that your name is not on the sign-up list because you have other plans. That's fine. Still, we can fill you in on the happenings.

MarketSource Corporation

(609) 655-8990

Dear MarketSource Program Participants:

In light of the efforts through the United States Surgeon General's office to inform the general public about the prevention of sexually transmitted diseases, especially AIDS, MarketSource has been approached by a number of condom manufacturers in regard to reaching college students.

In the past, MarketSource would not consider carrying this type of controversial advertising, however increased social responsibility causes us to reexamine our position. We feel that our programs can be utilized in such a way as to tastefully and objectively inform students about sexually transmitted diseases and the choices they may have to make.

Realizing the sensitive nature of this type of advertising and our commitment to you in maintaining programs that are of the highest standards, we ask that you take a moment to help us by answering the attached questionnaire. The answers will be used to inform us of your school's policies, opinions and reactions to condom advertising within the college environment.

Please understand that this questionnaire does not imply that condom advertising will be a part of MarketSource's Term Planner, Campus Source or Campus Trial Pak Programs. The answers will be used to give us an insight into this subject. All answers will be held in strict confidence.

Thank you for your help. If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to call me at 1-800-225-0912 or 609-655-8990.

Very truly yours,

Joel Ginsberg
Vice President
College Sales

Please excuse us if you received a duplicate of this questionnaire, it is because you participate in more than one MarketSource program.

Lucia

hit
Raoul

Directed by Humberto Solas

Cast: Raquel Revuelta, Eslinda Nun-Adela Legra.

1969. Cuba. In Spanish with English subtitles.

160 minutes. Black and White.

The most spectacular masterpiece to emerge from the Latin American cinema to date, Lucia is a grandiose mix of audacity, romanticism, experimentalism, and epic historical vision whose equivalent can perhaps be found only in deliriously ambitious, one-of-a-kind projects like Griffith's Intolerance, Bertolucci's 1900, and Coppola's Godfather II. Lucia is structured in three parts, each centering on a woman in a different era of modern Cuban history: an aristocratic spinster involved in a passionate romance with a treacherous stranger during the Spanish occupation in 1895; a bourgeois girl who leaves her family to take up with an anti-Machado terrorist during the uprisings of 1933; and a strong-willed young peasant woman locked up by her foolish husband in the post-Revolutionary Cuba of the 1960's. Extending the film's epic scope across style as well as subject, Solas shifts visual and dramatic tones with prodigious virtuosity, ranging from the stark romanticism of the first episode to the grey-toned irony of the second to the sunny and robust comedy of the third. Lucia is stuffed with powerful images and tour-de-force scenes: a Goyaesque vision of the horrors of war; the phantasmagoric charge of machete-wielding guerrilla horsemen through a misty wood; a melancholy off-season holiday in a deserted Keys resort; a gangster-style shootout between terrorists and police in a Havana theatre.

BLOOD OF THE CONDOR

Directed by Jorge Sanjines

Banned in Bolivia until violent protest forced its release, Blood of the Condor is one of the most controversial and highly acclaimed films ever produced in Latin America. The film is a dramatized account—based on actual events which occurred in 1968—of a U.S.-imposed population control program which sterilized Quechua Indian women without their knowledge or consent. In recounting this incident, the film offers a fascinating, almost anthropological look at the lifestyle, customs, and religious rituals of the Quechua Indians, doing so not by simply exploiting the exotic qualities of these rites but by showing their social basis and significance in Quechuan daily life. Most importantly, the film provides an accurate reflection of the predominant attitude of Latin Americans toward U.S. "aid" programs, thus offering the American viewer a unique opportunity to see ourselves as other peoples see us.

1969. In Quechua and Spanish with English subtitles.

To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is with regard to the mutual belief of the Santa Rosa Junior College Baseball Team that there is a tremendous need for an increase in our present coaching staff. The team feels that our coaching staff of one is inadequate and our needs for furthering our athletic skills are being inadequately met. The sum of seventy-three dollars is paid by each member of the team with the full intention of receiving the best possible instruction that the school has to offer; it has therefore been decided by the members of our team that we see it fit to petition the board for an addition to our coaching staff. The person we have in mind and that we feel is most qualified for the job is Dion Noonan. Mr. Noonan has been working with our team and assisting our coach, Ron Myers, at no cost to the school. It is our belief as the recipients of his work that he would be an excellent addition to the coaching staff as well as the team. Your full review and consideration on this is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

The Santa Rosa J.C. Baseball Team

SUBJECT: Conference Funding

One of the major components of a Student Leadership/Development program at any college is a Conference and Leadership Training experiences. Santa Rosa Junior College has been a leader statewide over the past years due to strong campus-focused leadership in student government and the maintenance of valuable contacts with other community colleges and universities.

The Fourth Annual California Community College Student Leadership Conference is scheduled for November 13,14,15, 1987. The conference is sponsored by the California Community College Student Affairs Association, a group of professional activities advisors. It is my recommendation that the following people attend this conference as representatives of SRJC: Erick Maker, Michelle Bach, and Bob Flores. I request that CSA approve the following expenditures:

Conference Registration Fee	3 @ $65 = $195.00
Conference Lodging	2 rooms at $49.00/night X 2 nights = $196.00
Meals	7 meals @ $7.00/person = $49.00
Travel	3 roundtrip airfares @ $108 each = $324.00

Dear Student Leader or Advisor:

Here are your registration materials for the Fall Conference. A lot of work has gone into what will be THE conference of the 1987/88 school year for California community college students and we want to see you there.

Dr. Natasha Josefowitz, author of Paths of Power and an internationally known speaker is one of our keynoters. She is an interesting and entertaining speaker. Our other keynoters will be equally outstanding. They will set the tone that will promote and encourage your personal, academic and leadership growth and development.

Workshop sessions will be just what you want and need to help you be effective leaders. Good meals at a very nice hotel and enjoyable entertainment will round out your experience. Plan to stay through to the end; make your home bound plane reservations for after noon on Sunday.

Fill out the Conference Registration Form and mail it along with your check to Vern Hodge at Saddleback College. Do not send your conference registration material to the hotel.

Send your room reservation to the Marriott Hotel in Irvine, CA. A reply envelope for that is enclosed. Enclose your check, made payable to the hotel, in that envelope.

Santa Rosa Junior College

ASSOCIATED STUDENTS

TO: College Student Assembly

FROM: Bob Flores, Director of Student Activities

DATE: October 7, 1987

SUBJECT: Conference Funding

One of the major components of a Student Leadership/Development program at any college is a Conference and Leadership Training experiences. Santa Rosa Junior College has been a leader statewide over the past years due to strong campus-focused leadership in student government and the maintenance of valuable contacts with other community colleges and universities.

The Fourth Annual California Community College Student Leadership Conference is scheduled for November 13,14,15, 1987. The conference is sponsored by the California Community College Student Affairs Association, a group of professional activities advisors. It is my recommendation that the following people attend this conference as representatives of SRJC: Erick Maker, Michelle Bach, and Bob Flores. I request that CSA approve the following expenditures:

Conference Registration Fee	3 @ $65 = $195.00
Conference Lodging	2 rooms at $49.00/night X 2 nights = $196.00
Meals	7 meals @ $7.00/person = $49.00
Travel	3 roundtrip airfares @ $108 each = $324.00
Total Request	$715.00

* * * STUDENT LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE * * *

November 13, 14, 15, 1987

Irvine Marriott
1800 Von Karman
Irvine, CA 92715

Dear Student Leader or Advisor:

Here are your registration materials for the Fall Conference. A lot of work has gone into what will be THE conference of the 1987/88 school year for California community college students and we want to see you there.

Dr. Natasha Josefowitz, author of Paths of Power and an internationally known speaker is one of our keynoters. She is an interesting and entertaining speaker. Our other keynoters will be equally outstanding. They will set the tone that will promote and encourage your personal, academic and leadership growth and development.

Workshop sessions will be just what you want and need to help you be effective leaders. Good meals at a very nice hotel and enjoyable entertainment will round out your experience. Plan to stay through to the end; make your home bound plane reservations for after noon on Sunday.

Fill out the Conference Registration Form and mail it along with your check to Vern Hodge at Saddleback College. Do not send your conference registration material to the hotel.

Send your room reservation to the Marriott Hotel in Irvine, CA. A reply envelope for that is enclosed. Enclose your check, made payable to the hotel, in that envelope.

Conference Registration begins at 10:00am on Friday, November 13, 1987.

The Opening General Assembly begins at 1:30pm.

The conference ends at noon on Sunday, November 15, 1987.

SEE YOU IN IRVINE IN NOVEMBER!

EDUCATION

Piner graduate heads SRJC student body

Erick Maker, 19, a Piner high graduate, has been elected president of Santa Rosa Junior College's student body.

Maker serves as chairman of the college's Student Assembly and Executive Cabinet, serves as a representative on the College Council, and submits monthly reports to the Board of Trustees.

"We have a new executive board and more students involved than positions available in our student assembly," he said.

Maker's involvement in student government began with his election as president of the seventh, eighth and ninth grade classes and 10th-grade treasurer in Hominy, Okla. He also was involved in athletics and other activities in Oklahoma. He was a member of the team that won the 1983 Oklahoma Football State Championship.

He moved to Santa Rosa in 1985 to live with his father and attend Piner high, graduating in 1986.

As a quarter Osage Indian, Maker is a strong promoter of Native America involvement on campus. He served as a tour guide at the college's Jesse Peter Memorial Museum, performed as the announcer for SRJC's Day Under the Oaks Indian Dancers, and revived the Native American Club.

He is a political science major and plans to attend either the University of California, Berkeley, Stanford or Harvard. He also plans to continue his studies in law school. Long-range desires include being a senator and setting a powerful example for Native Americans.

Information booths

Santa Rosa Junior College instructors are staffing an information booth on various days during October in the Coddington Shopping Center mall.

The college is seeking qualified applicants for the two-year electronics program in view of a renewed need for entry level and inexperienced technicians by private Bay Area firms.

Tom Power, director of SRJC's Electronics Department, said 90 percent of spring and summer graduates found employment in electronics.

Visitors to the booth at Coddington can obtain information about program requirements, courses and answers to questions about the instruction and electronics in general. For dates and times the booth

Engineering event

Deans from 10 Northern California universities offering engineering programs will talk to interested Santa Rosa Junior College and high school students and their counselors Thursday at the junior college during the free Engineering Transfer Conference.

Sponsored by SRJC's Engineering Department, the deans will be in Emeritus Hall's Newman Auditorium from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. except for an hour's break for lunch. The public also is invited.

Each university representative will discuss his or her school's engineering program and answer questions. SRJC's transfer engineering program, allowing students to move on to various universities as juniors, also will be reviewed.

Walt Brown, SRJC engineering instructor, said high school counselors and high school students enrolled in advanced mathematics, science and drafting classes are invited to complete university applications for enrollment in the fall of 1988.

Information is available by calling the Engineering Department, 527-4359.

SRJC makes plans for building

Trustees OK bids for new Barnett Hall

JOHN ADAMS
Staff Writer

Santa Rosa Junior College's open space, landscaped with stately oaks and many brick buildings, is going to gain another three-story classroom and office structure adjacent to the building it eventually will replace.

The Barnett Hall Addition, an appropriate if not temporary structure, has been assigned to SRJC's new building in an estimated $4.4 million construction project designed by the Santa Rosa firm of Palmer & Palmer Architects.

Plans call for business administration classes and offices to occupy the first floor, the business technology department to occupy the second floor and the health occupations department to occupy the third floor.

Two elevators and two stair towers will provide access.

SRJC's Board of Trustees reviewed designs and specifications a second time before approving plans and authorizing a call for bids. The board delayed plan approval at the Sept. 14 meeting for a further report on the proposed brick veneer treatment for the exterior.

The board first stumbled on the question whether a brick veneer, a major exterior treatment, would hold or drop off as has happened at buildings with similar treatments on the campus and elsewhere in Santa Rosa. The veneer on the addition is to be grouted, but trustees still wanted to be sure individual brick pieces would hold.

Architect Michael Palmer moderated a slide show during a special Board of Trustees meeting picturing other buildings using brick veneer in Santa Rosa. The board approved the plans and authorized seeking bids.

The campus itself has had a mixed success with brick veneer. However, as with other buildings in the city, most problems have occurred where grout was not used between the facia material.

The building will rise next to the existing Barnett Hall. The old Barnett is expected to be demolished, possibly providing space for a future building.

Palmer said the building will take 14 to 16 months to complete.

In another action at the special meeting, trustees awarded the contract and should be ready for occupancy in August 1989. Construction could start in April.

Contract for the second phase of parking and access improvements to Piombo Const. for $279,549. The project, including 125 additional student parking spaces, involves construction of a two-lane access road from Haehl Pavilion to Armory Drive with a link to college parking off Armory Drive. Work will start as soon as possible and should be completed by Dec. 31.

SR ponders parking permits

By ROBERT DIGITALE
Staff Writer

Santa Rosa council members said Tuesday they may issue parking permits to those who live near downtown and Santa Rosa Junior College.

City staff urged the council to give one permit to each "legal residence" in the Burbank Gardens and Cherry Street neighborhoods. The city would charge a permit fee of $5 a year. Motorists without permits would be limited to two-hour parking.

The council took no formal action but agreed to hold a public hearing on the matter.

City officials said more and more cars are being parked in the residential neighborhoods. Residents, particularly in the downtown neighborhoods, are being ticketed for parking in front of their own homes for more than two hours.

Councilman Schuyler Jeffries said downtown employees have no business parking in the Burbank Gardens neighborhood and the city should "get every extraneous car out of there."

Jeffries said the city may need to use a slightly different strategy in the Cherry Street neighborhood north of downtown because of the number of businesses moving into the area. That strategy might include the residential permits, he said.

Some residents may balk at being limited to parking one car on the street all day. Catherine Bodine, a Burbank Gardens leader and a supporter of the permit system, said she has neighbors who park three cars on the street.

A Junior College representative said limiting parking near the school would "be catastrophic to the J.C."

Curt Groniga, dean of Administrative Services, said many students park on the streets and that the college lacks an alternative.

Mayor Nanci Burton, a Junior College neighborhood resident, said she wants the council to consider her area for permits.

Staff members said the permit program would cost about $52,000 to implement and $37,000 a year to maintain. The cost should be paid by extra traffic tickets and the permit fees.

MEMORANDUM:

TO: Bob Flores

FROM: Johnny Hassenzahl

Just a note to bring you and the A.S.B. up to date with what the A.P.E. program has been doing in the way of fund-raising (this time we haven't had to request financial assistance from the A.S.B.!).

The Wally Johnson Memorial Pool Committee has been very successful in obtaining funds for a new pool lift, three (3) shower chairs (that are submergible) and modifications on the lift that make it a more individualized lift for our pool. We were also able to fundraise for some removable plastic stairs that will make the A.P.E. swim programs more accessible to those who walk with some limitation. The pool committee has raised $12,500.00.

I'm sure that the college administration, faculty and Associated Student Body join me in gratitude for the committee's dedication and work.

SCHLOSSMAN COIN TYPEWRITER SERVICE

Bob Flores

Santa Rosa, CA 95401

Dear Mr. Flores,

Thank you for having Schlossman coin typewriter equipment in your library. Many people who do not have a typewriter and perhaps cannot afford to buy one are able to spend a few quarters to get their typing job done. We feel that this is a very useful service to the public and we are proud that we can be of help to so many people.

Lately some of our operating costs have risen. Ribbons and parts have gone up in price and our liability insurance is expensive. We have thought long and hard about how we can maintain our expenses and still provide good service to our participating libraries.

At this time we don't want to increase the cost to your typing patrons, but we would rather decrease your commission rate, which is now at a generous 10%. So effective immediately we will be decreasing your commission to 5%. We regret having to do this but hope that you will understand.

Sincerely yours,

Annie Schlossman

Santa Rosa, CA 95401

Dear Mr. Flores,

Thank you for having Schlossman coin typewriter equipment in your library. Many people who do not have a typewriter and perhaps cannot afford to buy one are able to spend a few quarters to get their typing job done. We feel that this is a very useful service to the public and we are proud that we can be of help to so many people.

Lately some of our operating costs have risen. Ribbons and parts have gone up in price and our liability insurance is expensive. We have thought long and hard about how we can maintain our expenses and still provide good service to our participating libraries.

At this time we don't want to increase the cost to your typing patrons, but we would rather decrease your commission rate, which is now at a generous 10%. So effective immediately we will be decreasing your commission to 5%. We regret having to do this but hope that you will understand.

Sincerely yours,

Annie Schlossman

Court Limits 2-Year College's Book Sales to Works with Academic Ties

SAN RAFAEL, CAL.

A court here ruled last week that the state's 106 community colleges do not have the right to sell any books except textbooks, reference works, and books that are specifically recommended by faculty members for courses. For now, the decision applies only to bookstores in one county.

In the decision, Marin County Superior Court Judge Richard H. Breiner said he would issue a permanent injunction against the sale of any other books by two bookstores operated by Marin Community College. Judge Breiner ruled that the California Education Code does not grant community colleges the authority to sell books that are not directly related to coursework.

The parties in the case had 10 days to file new evidence before the judge would issue the final injunction; as of last week, none had done so and they all expected the injunction to be issued.

The code, which does not apply to California's public four-year colleges and universities, says community colleges may sell textbooks or books used to supplement course materials but makes no mention of other books. Had the Legislature wanted community colleges to sell other books, the judge said, it would have specifically granted the colleges that authority.

2 Local Stores Filed Suit

The ruling was handed down in a lawsuit filed by two local bookstores, whose owners said the community-college stores were hurting their business and violating the state code. The lawsuit has been closely watched by college-bookstore operators around the country, and by persons involved in a dispute between small businesses and higher education over the role of the business operations at colleges and universities.

Judge Breiner has jurisdiction only in Marin County. Further appeals in the case—which are expected—will be heard in state courts with broader authority, and their rulings could eventually apply to the entire state.

Myrna R. Miller, president of the college, called the decision “a serious blow to the educational process.”

“A bookstore is one of the most important resources for a college,” Ms. Miller added. “One of the things people should learn in college is to buy books and to build a library.”

Ms. Miller said her college's Board of Trustees had not yet met to decide if it would appeal the ruling. However, Barnes and Noble Bookstores, the company that manages the bookstores and was one of the defendants in the case, has already decided to appeal.

“This is ludicrous. We may not be able to sell Shakespeare or Dostoyevsky if they are not specifically assigned,” said Alan Kahn, chief executive officer of the College Division of Barnes and Noble, which currently operates about 160 college bookstores.

'Shortsighted' Motives

Ms. Miller said the lawsuit had been filed because the local bookstores objected to the college's agreement with Barnes and Noble. She called the motivation “short-sighted,” saying that the arrangement with the national company did not change the nature of the stores and that the injunction would apply to the college regardless of whether an outside company operated the stores.

Margaret C. Fawcett, a lawyer for the bookstores that filed the lawsuit, said their motivation was not the agreement with Barnes and Noble but, rather, the intention of the college to “offer a full-service bookstore.”

She said most community colleges limit their bookstores to textbooks, as California law requires.

Garis F. Distelhorst, executive director of the National Association of College Stores, said most community-college bookstores in California and elsewhere sell non-textbooks as well as textbooks. He said he was very concerned about the ruling in Marin.

“It's very dangerous, not just to stores, but to students, to have restrictions on the type of book a college can sell,” he said. “Institutions of higher education have a right, and I would say a responsibility, to sell literature to students.”

Dear Associated Student Body President:

It was recently necessary to hold a recall election to remove officers from office in the Associated Students of Grossmont College. Contributing factors in large measure were vagueness in our constitution and policies. Now, six months later with 21 new members of the Board, I am seeking to restore integrity and honesty within our political structure. In order to do this, we must reconstruct our basic groundwork.

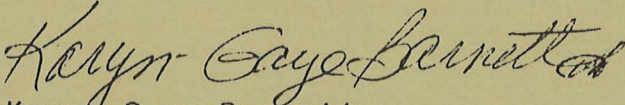

I would like to find out how other community colleges base their policies, constitution, budget, benefit package, and student handbooks. I am committed to getting this new administration off to a new start, and would appreciate your help.

We would greatly appreciate it if you could find time to assist us in this area by sending us copies of the following:

- ASB Constitution
- Policies
- Benefit package
- Budget
- Student Handbook

Your immediate attention to this matter would be appreciated, and thank you very much for your assistance.

Sincerely,

Karyn-Gaye Barnett

Dear Erick,

I am a part time student at SRJC and have been going to school there for three years. I am disabled and have had a hard time getting to classes and to the bus. I have had people threaten me and hurt me. I used to have the campus police help me, but they are now understaffed and enabling services doesn't offer assistance to me. I need someone to take me from class to the bus on Monday and Wednesday at 3:15. My class is in Rm 670 Analy temporary. The bus stop is on Mendocino Avenue.

Sincerely,

Ken Rossi

Parking purchase awaits city approval

BY PATTY HENNESSY

SRJC bid on a piece of property at 1830 Mendocino Ave. and 1817 Slater St. for the possible use of additional parking, pending city approval.

Curt Groninga, dean of administrative services, said that SRJC has an option to buy 1 1/3 acres of property from Gehrke Land Inc. for a projected purchase price of $275,000. The property would hold approximately 150-170 extra parking spaces, but Groninga said "We now need to get approval from the city of Santa Rosa to use it as a parking lot."

Groninga expects this decision to take a couple of months, and said "I'm hoping to meet with the city sometime in the next week or ten days."

He explained that he will hire a parking consultant to study the parking problem, and is currently receiving proposals from them. "I'd think we'd have a decision by December about a parking consultant," he predicted.

The funding for the property would come from the student and staff parking fees, Groninga said.

The idea of buying the property and transforming it into a parking lot originated from Pres. Roy Mikalson, who explained that "We have to use everything possible to alleviate the parking problem. Whether we go to one or two levels [on the new parking lot], it would give us 150-300 spaces at a somewhat reasonable price."

Mikalson said one parking spot rotates about three times each day in the school parking lots.

Mikalson is aware of residents' concerns over having a parking lot built in their neighborhood, but said "I don't see it as causing any great traffic problems. We plan to do everything we can to keep it attractive."

He also said that it would be patrolled by campus police during school hours and locked up after 10:30 p.m. during the week.

"It's [the property] being used as accommodations for a lot of things right now. People without places to stay are living there," he continued.

Wilbert Gehrke, who is handling the property, said "We do have an offer and acceptance [from SRJC] and it is in escrow, pending city approval."

Gehrke is in favor of transforming the property into a parking lot because of SRJC security required there. "It would clean up an eyesore area as far as transients sleeping there and junk dropped there. The security would make it beneficial to residential areas," he said.

"It [the parking lot] is much needed and will hopefully alleviate cars parking in residential areas," continued Gehrke.

He explained that the purchase of the property to use as a parking lot would have to meet residential and city approval.

Dear College Student Assembly Member,

11/23/87

The Global Studies Group would like to propose a sister university resolution with the National University of El Salvador, which will be presented to C.S.A. in the near future. (Sample copies of the resolution are contained in this info. packet included to educate the reader on the history of the U.E.S.)

The A.S.B. of Fall 1986, passed a resolution that supported the U.E.S.: "Remain open and accessible", and "funded as mandated by the constitution of El Salvador". The A.S.B. also agreed to explore further ways of assisting the school in its fight for peace and freedom of education; (see resolution).

Last January, Denise Bein visited the University of El Salvador. She talked to students and people of the community and learned that the school has been recurrently bombed and terrorized by the military. The classrooms were in ruins, and the teaching supplies were at a minimum. Classes were being held under the trees despite these conditions and the earthquake damage. 35,000 students still attend, and have asked that colleges and universities in other countries provide support for their educational community. The school is traditionally a center of progressive thought and lively debate, and is therefore a threat to the country's dictatorship.

The Global Studies Group would like to implement a sister university project at S.R.J.C. (which many schools across the nation are already participating in).

Please read the information included carefully so that you may make an educated vote next week.

The S.R.J.C. needs to take a stand on peace, justice, and academic freedom which will be consistent with its academic excellence. Supporting the sister university resolution would be a step towards this goal.

Sincerely yours,

Denise Bein

The University of El Salvador

Introduction

The University of El Salvador (UES) has played a vital role in Salvadoran society for over 100 years. Traditionally a center of progressive thought and lively debate, it has been subjected to intermittent repression for nearly as long.

Its policy of socially-relevant education has lead to an emphasis on training doctors, agronomists, and engineers who will stay in El Salvador and serve the needs of the country. The University has been at the forefront of the growing mass movement demanding an end to the economic crisis of the country and a political resolution of the civil war.

Founded in 1841 as a church-related institution, UES became autonomous in 1886. As is true throughout Latin America, the University is funded by the state, but run independently. This concept of university autonomy, dating back to the turn of the century, has been critical to the survival of universities which have found themselves in an adversarial relationship with a repressive government. In practice, the concept means that the university administration has the freedom to determine curricula, appoint faculty, manage the budget, select students, and control the physical environment of the university.

In the case of the UES, this autonomy has been violated on many occasions. The most serious attack occurred in 1980 during a rising national protest against the repressive civilian-military junta (of which Duarte was a member).

The Military Occupation

At 10 o'clock on the morning of June 29, 1980 over 300 members of the Salvadoran Armed Forces stormed the University of El Salvador campus. Armed with bazookas, machine guns, and hand grenades, the military killed 60 students and faculty, while 40 others disappeared. On October 29, the Rector of the University, Felix Antonio Ulloa, was assassinated. This attack began an occupation which lasted four years and kept the University of El Salvador closed until May 1984.

The destruction was devastating. Buildings stand half-finished and partially destroyed. Bullet holes riddle many walls. Grass and brush mark the spot where the student-run health clinic once stood. Books and equipment were either removed and sold or destroyed. Only 20 microscopes are left of the 500 once serving the science departments and medical school. The most conservative estimates place the cost of reconstruction at 25 to 40 million dollars.

The Re-opening of the University

Throughout the period of closure, the students, faculty, and administration tried valiently to keep the University alive. Holding classes in private homes and rented space, they educated thousands of students, and kept alive the hopes of the entire University community. Nevertheless, with no funding and few materials, instruction was severely limited.

Finally, on May 22, 1984 domestic and international pressure forced the re-opening of the University. Now 35,000 students attend classes, some in buildings without walls, in rooms without desks, and with few textbooks. The Duarte government, in defiance of its own Constitution, provides only enough funding to pay salaries.

There is no money for administering the programs, providing resources, or even paying the electric bills. There are no funds to reconstruct or re-stock the libraries, labs and classrooms. Students must now pay "voluntary fees" to keep the University functioning, limiting access to the poor.

Despite these hardships, the University is continuing to take its traditional place at the forefront of the popular movement. Its demands for full-funding, for a solution to the country's economic crisis, and for a political resolution to the civil war have subjected the University to continued repression.

Army helicopters fly overhead daily. Students entering and leaving campus are often harrassed, and sometimes arrested or disappeared by security forces. Eleven University people, most members of AGEUS, the University students' organization, were openly threatened with assasination by a death squad in a letter published by a daily San Salvador paper this past July.

Why Support UES?

One reason to support UES is socio-economic. It is by far the best-developed, broadest-based, and most socially responsive institution in El Salvador. Courses of instruction fill major social needs, from engineering to health care to agronomy. In terms of student access to higher education, the University provides an invaluable resource to the nation. Its tradition of social consciousness and its guiding principles of teaching and research linked to public service are essential to the reconstruction of El Salvador.

The second and perhaps more important reason to support UES is political. Like many Universities in Latin America, the UES is a fountainhead of social analysis and criticism. It is a center for dialogue about such issues as human rights, health care distribution, and liberation theology.

It is one of the major public institutions in El Salvador today calling for a negotiated settlement. And the student organization AGEUS and the unions on campus have been at the forefront of the mass movement, demanding drastic social and economic changes, as well as a political resolution of the civil war. It has refused offers of considerable financial assistance from AID in an effort to preserve its autonomy.

Several organizations and CISPES committees have already begun projects to support the University. The United States Student Association has passed a resolution of support for the UES and is providing microscopes; the Latin America Solidarity Committee of Fresno has gathered together and sent the equipment for a print shop at the University, and is continuing to collect supplies and money for another shipment; and San Francisco State University has become a sister school of the UES.

"Now, it completes the circle that began right here at this same podium," said Jacob Bighorn, the former Chemawa teacher who owned the feather and who presented it to Onizuka in 1984.

The eagle feather is one of the ultimate symbols of spiritual power in the traditional Indian world, Bighorn said.

The feather he gave Onizuka in 1984 had been his own and had been revered by members of his family, Bighorn said, adding that it could serve to inspire future Chemawa students.

"Hopefully, it will now act to draw more and more Indian kids into the field of science," he said.

ate ceremony attended by about 200 guests Thursday night. The event was followed by a dance and midnight breakfast. Commencement is scheduled for 10 a.m. Friday.

Hill described Onizuka as "a warrior for peace," and a traditional man who was a devout Buddhist. Because of his heritage, Onizuka was able to understand and respect the meaning the feather had for the Chemawa community, he said.

"Today, each of you has earned his own eagle feather in a symbolic way in the field of education," Hill told the students. "You are warriors for education."

Chemawa, operated by the U.S. Bureau of Indian Affairs, was founded in 1880 and is the oldest off-reservation Indian boarding school in the country, said Debbie A. LaCroix, director of spiritual and cultural activities. With a capacity of 440, its students come from tribes throughout the Northwest, including Alaska.

'Sister university' ties with El Salvador urged

By NANCY MCCARTHY
of The Oregonian staff

Portland State University students hope to provide materials and political aid to students from El Salvador through a "sister university" relationship, members of a student group said in a news conference Thursday.

Bob Gross, a member of the university's Central America Study and Action group that is promoting the relationship, said that CASA hoped to make Oregonians aware of U.S. policy that supported the El Salvadoran government. "Hopefully, we can get the policy changed," Gross said.

More than 1,800 students signed a petition in April asking to establish a "sister university" relationship with the students and staff of the University of El Salvador, said Steve Conover, a 1984 PSU graduate who also spoke at the news conference. During an election last month, students voted by a 2-to-1 ratio to approve the relationship, he said.

Sister university relationships with the University of El Salvador already have been established at Oregon State University, the University of Oregon, Western Washington State University and San Francisco State University, Conover said, but PSU's relationship was the first completely student-sponsored action.

Gross sent a letter on behalf of CASA to Jose Napoleon Duarte, president of El Salvador, this week, informing him of the relationship. Gross said that PSU students were concerned about the "terrible and increasing gap between Salvador's small group of wealthy and the great majority of the poor."

"Students here are shocked by the reality of El Salvador: Half the children die before age five of malnutrition-related diseases; more and more land is being appropriated by powerful interests to grow cash crop commodities while the poor starve for want of rice and beans; and the increase of landlessness by more than 400 percent in the last twenty years," Gross said in the letter, which was on PSU stationery.

Gross said in the letter that the relationship was established to ensure that debate could occur at the University of El Salvador. PSU students would contact U.S. and Salvadoran officials to intervene when notified of human rights abuses, he promised.

PSU President Joseph Blumel said he did not know anything about the "sister university" relationship with El Salvador. Although the university has several other "sister" agreements with universities in Japan, China, Yugoslavia and Italy, they were negotiated between the PSU administration and administrators from the other universities, he said.

The University of El Salvador, which has 35,000 students, was shut down by the military in 1980 during a conflict in which 60 professors and students were killed. Classes were conducted in students' and professors' homes until international pressure forced Duarte to reopen the university in June 1984, Conover said.

Two Salvadoran students visited Portland last November, seeking aid from local students. Bob Rini, a member of U.S. Citizens for Friendship and Peace in El Salvador, who also attended the news conference, said the university was in shambles.

Penitentiary superintendent takes Arizona job

by United Press International

Oregon State Penitentiary Superintendent J.C. Keeney said Thursday he would retire Aug. 1 to take a job in Arizona because Oregon's criminal justice system is "near collapse and nobody's doing anything about it."

"I've been here 26 years, and I've looked around, and things aren't going to get any better in this state," Keeney told United Press International. Keeney, 51, became superintendent of the penitentiary in 1972, and it gets tiresome after a while," Keeney said. "I guess I'm burned out."

Keeney said he went looking for a new job and decided to take the position of operations officer at the central office of the Arizona Corrections Division. He will be responsible for security at three state prisons and three others now under construction.

"Oregon's going in trouble for a long time," Keeney said. "I'm not working at an institution but that he had submitted a confidential recommendation and expected a new superintendent to be named soon. "I'll be working most of the summer and hopefully will be able to work with my replacement," he said.

"Arizona's system is about four times bigger than Oregon's, and they're building three new prisons. It looked to me like a progressive system," Ke-in February 1984, which shows how the need is for the university. The pressures on us have become so, and are bound to get even worse in pre-election months, that we are wondering if it is worth the price to carry on. The fact that we give the same place and at the same time on day makes us sitting targets for the squads. There have already been paid advertisements in some newspapers with students and teachers supposed to be 'traitors' — these are little more than an excuse to kill. The plan we are discussing is for the university staff to go into exile and leave the government, showing it is impossible in El Salvador today to have any quality education. We do not expect anything very much from the elections. Lives. It seems to me that if the government and the armed forces consider the university as a threat, we make no political claims at all and absolutely no wish to compete for power, then any opposition party does want to dispute political policy with them can have no success whatsoever. In such circumstances, who can believe that the elections will be free and peaceful, or that the results will be respected if they go against the government?

ES SISTER UNIVERSITY PROJECT
Suite 1 EMU
University of Oregon

The following testimony was given by one of the UES students while visiting the U of O in November, 1985.

Testimony of Jose Rodolfo Rosales to be introduced to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Hearings and the House Foreign Affairs Committee Hearings on the Counter-Terrorism Aid for Central America

1. I, Jose Rodolfo Rosales, native of El Salvador, Central America, 28 years of age, am a fourth year medical student at the Faculty of Medicine at the University of El Salvador, San Salvador.
2. I am the Vice-President of the General Association of Salvadoran University Students (AGEUS). I am presently in the United States on a west coast tour of universities and colleges. I have visited 40 campuses to establish ties and support between these U.S. institutions and the National University of El Salvador.
3. On July 12, 1985, the Secret-Anti-Communist Army (ESA), published a death list including the names of eleven (11) university students, staff and workers, threatening them as follows:
"All of these traitors of the people have been condemned to death and we give them until Saturday the 20th of this month to be forewarned that from that day on our beloved military squads will put the execution orders into effect."
4. On July 20, 1985, the Christian-Democratic Party of President Jose Napoleon Duarte published a statement justifying the communique published by the death squad.
5. I was one of the students named in the death list.
6. On July 28, 1985, an attempt was made on my life but I was protected by a group of North American students and professors who were visiting the university at that time.
7. On or about August 7, 1985, a second attempt on my life was carried out. I narrowly escaped from being shot while I was walking in downtown San Salvador. However, a woman standing close by was injured.
8. Eight (8) out of the eleven (11) individuals threatened have already left the country.
9. On July 24, 1985, one of the other 2 students who stayed in El Salvador, Antonio Quezada, was shot at.
10. On August 5, 1985, another attempt on Mr. Quezada's life was carried out.
11. These life-threatening acts are not isolated cases facing the university community. During the last eleven (11) months, 55 students have been killed by the Salvadoran armed forces and the death squads; 9 students have "disappeared" by the government forces and 24 have been incarcerated. Thirteen (13) of the latter have been released after intensive international pressure.
12. On June 20, 1985, the General Secretary of the University, Ana Gloria de Montoya; the President of the Engineering and Architecture Department, Ing. Manuel Canas Lazo; University worker, Salvador Ubau, President of AGEUS, Antonio Quezada and myself met with Ricardo J. Lopez, Ministry of the Treasury, to discuss the financial situation facing the university including the lack of funds to pay the salaries of the administration, the faculty and the workers. Mr. Lopez at that time stated that President Duarte's financial priorities were the needs of the war and not higher education.
13. Mr. Lopez's statement is disheartening, particularly when a significant portion of the university campus and the equipment were totally destroyed during the June 28, 1980 military occupation of the University which lasted until May, 1985.
14. Threats continue to be carried out daily by the state security forces. These state security forces appear on campus uninvited, driving vehicles with blacked-out windows and with shotguns visible. They stop students and ask them about other students whose names appear on lists they carry with them.
15. At this time, I would like to request that the Congress not approve the Counter-Terrorism Bill since the aid will only enhance the ability of the state security forces and the death squads to repress the civilian population in general and the University population in particular.

I, Jose Rodolfo Rosales, swear under penalty of perjury that the above statements are true.

SUBJECT: FACULTY PROFILE

Dear Executive Cabinet,

Thank you very much for providing us with the means for a well deserved get-together to celebrate the near completion of a difficult project and the hard work that's gone into making it succeed.

Your enthusiasm and financing has helped the project succeed through some of its more difficult stages. With your continued support we will finally get this publication on "the stands" for the benefit of our student body.

Gratefully,

12/1/87

Dear Members of the Executive Cabinet

I have become aware that, because of unusual circumstances, the office of Executive Vice President has been left vacant. I urge you to consider me for the appointment to this office. I firmly believe I am the man for this job!

I have the qualities and experience necessary to succeed. Experience can be seen by looking at my past record: In high school I held the office of ASB President. Since you did not have the opportunity to observe my performance there, I have attached a reference from someone who did. You have had the opportunity to observe my involvement here at SRJC, and I was pleased and flattered to have been recognized as the ASBOOTM for November. I have participated in some form in every event since my appointment during the second week of the term. I believe I have demonstrated the necessary skills--leadership skills, ability to interact well with others, responsibility and, perhaps most importantly, my enthusiasm and willingness to work hard--that will allow me to succeed in the office of Executive Vice President.

I again urge you to consider me in your selection of a new Executive Vice President. I believe it would benefit the ASB now and in the future. Now I believe I can help you strengthen the Executive Cabinet as a group with my whole hearted cooperation and support. I intend to run for ASB President next year, and I believe my membership in Executive Cabinet now could produce an individual more experienced, aware and capable of taking on the responsibilities of the presidency. Thank you for considering this letter.

Respectfully

To whom it may concern:

I have known Darin for some 8 or 9 years. In that expansive amount of time I feel I have come to understand this man. Above all other characteristics which are deeply rooted into his personality, there lies one in which can summarize the man; openness.

Darin is a person who allows himself to be open. With people he does not know, to ideas he has not explored, and to circumstances which he is subjected to, Darin has the uncanny ability to look at all of these in an objective manner at the inset. Because of his intelligence he is able to decipher any and all evidence which his mind involuntarily amasses concerning something and can make an unbiased decision on things or people based on the facts he knows. He is always open to new facts and his mind can be changed if it is correct to change according to what he knows. The openness of his consciousness has allowed Darin to be one of the most imaginative persons I've ever come into contact with. He would be a great asset to any student administration because of his open, objective and imaginative mind.

I have come to these conclusions about Darin through friendship and by working with him during our senior year in high school. As editor-in-chief of The Viking Sun, the Montgomery High newspaper, I came to realize how businesslike and professional Darin could be when faced with difficult and important decisions.

Darin James Brown would be a tremendous addition to any school presidents cabinet anywhere. I am convinced of it.

Sincerely yours

To whom it may concern

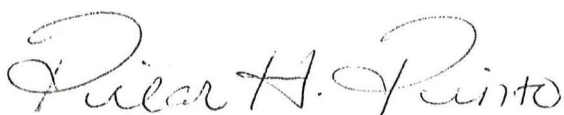

It has been brought to my attention that Darin "Mave" Brown wishes to be considered for the up and coming open seat of Executive Vice President of Santa Rosa Junior College. I would at this time like to share some things about Darin that should be known, but first allow me to briefly introduce myself and my position.

My name is Pilar Pinto. I am a student here at SRJC. I have had the privilege of working with Darin before. In the year 1985-86 Darin was Student Body President at Montgomery High School. I worked with him for a year as his Student Body Secretary and was later his successor. Well, enough about me.

When I worked with Darin it was a time when Montgomery was really in need for representation and leadership. Darin was brilliant in the way that he picked up the "calling" from his constituents and took charge. Darin worked very hard to make things work for both sides. The students along with the administration were pleased. The main reasons for Darin's success were: honesty, leadership and most of all his true desire to help those who put their trust in him. Darin is a unique person. He really cares about people. His caring and desires to help have not left him, but have grown stronger over the years. It is my belief that it would be very beneficial for SRJC to have Darin as a member of its Student Government team.

If there are any questions regarding my letter, please feel free to contact me. My number is 579-0696. Thank you.

Sincerely

Dear Executive Cabinet:

Having recently learned of the vacancy in the office of Executive Vice President, I hereby wish to inform you of my desire to fill this position. I feel that I have the necessary qualifications and abilities to be the Executive Vice President.

I have had a strong interest in student government for many years now and have continually been an active participant in it. I have been both an official representative and a vital, integrating member of these teams. I have held numerous positions in various student organizations. I found this involvement an enjoyable opportunity to make new friends and grow personally.

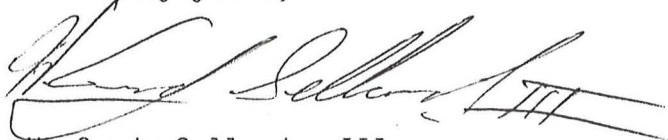

In addition to being active in student government, I was in a group known as K-corps. K-corps is a part of the Sheriff's Department specializing in search and rescue. Only the most responsible, reliable people are chosen and allowed to be a part of this group. By coordinating our activities with state and federal agencies, we were able to carry out our responsibilities. K-corps taught me progressive leadership as well as an ability for building a strong team.

I am currently the Legislative Commissioner for the Santa Rosa Junior College's College Student Assembly. I am becoming increasingly involved and interested in the politics of the SRJC Student Body. I am enjoying good working relations with the other members in CSA.

In addition to being Legislative Commissioner, I serve as the chairperson for more involvement with the Petaluma Center. I am also on the Christmas Dance Committee and the Committee for More Student Involvement in Day Under The Oaks.

As you may be aware, I am intending to run in the Spring for Executive Vice President. Serving as the Executive Vice President at this time would be of unquestionable value and preparation. I would be glad to provide you with any professional, academic or personal references you may need.

Sincerely yours,

Sonoma County schools chief dies

By JOHN ADAMS
Staff Writer

Bacon

Dick Bacon, Sonoma County's schools superintendent for less than a year, collapsed and died after suffering a massive heart attack in a Thursday morning meeting with his three closest colleagues.

He was 51.

Walter Eagan, Bacon's predecessor, agreed to serve as interim superintendent until the county Board of Education can find a permanent replacement. Eagan accepted the appointment during the board's monthly meeting Thursday afternoon.

Flowers at Bacon's seat marked his absence. His shocked colleagues postponed the rest of their meeting until a special session at 3 p.m. Wednesday.

See Bacon, Page A18

Bacon

Robert Geurts, one of two deputy superintendents named by Bacon, was meeting with Bacon when he was stricken at about 9:20 a.m. at the County Administration Center. He had just snuffed out a cigarette when he was seized by the heart attack, Geurts said.

"The paramedics were absolutely outstanding," Geurts said. "They arrived quickly and began stabilizing Dick, getting better life signs. But he continued to have whatever was happening and couldn't get out of it."

Bacon was rushed to Community Hospital, where he died. His wife, Dorene, was with him at the time.

Geurts confirmed that Bacon, a smoker who planned to quit, was taking medication for high blood pressure. He said a hospital spokesman attributed Bacon's death to a massive heart attack.

Geurts eulogized Bacon as "a man of his beliefs and convictions. He was not a man of pomp and circumstance. He was very straight forward."

Bacon's campaign slogan was "Striving for Excellence," and Geurts said the motto carried over after he took office last January.

"It was his motto for all of us," Geurts said. "He wanted nothing less than excellence."

Flags at the county government center were lowered to half staff as much of the education business came to a halt. Employees grieved openly and students learned of Bacon's death over school public address systems.

Don "Jerry" Johnson, who shares deputy county superintendent responsibilities, and Robert Henry, the schools' chief legal adviser, also were with Bacon in his regular Thursday morning "cabinet meeting."

Henry said Bacon was well liked: "He had a sincere concern for the well being of those who worked for him. To have established so much and then lost it so suddenly and completely really creates an emotional time here."

Bacon, recognized as an expert on school finance, was described by Eagan "not only as a very close, personal friend, but a professional colleague and sound adviser. He was totally dedicated to providing the best possible education for children. He'll be missed."

Bacon joined Eagan's staff as assistant superintendent in 1972 while serving as Mark West District superintendent. He was named chief deputy in 1974. Bacon, who defeated two challengers to win outright in the June 1986 primary, was sworn in last January as Eagan retired.

Once in office, Bacon began various reorganization efforts to give the schools office a new direction, recognizing the county Board of Education's desire to strengthen curriculum, office operations and to upgrade support to school districts.

"There's no question, Dick's got to be regarded as a superior superintendent," said senior county board trustee B.G. "Buz" Scheuer of Santa Rosa. "I've met a lot of other county superintendents and Dick certainly was Walt's (Eagan) most worthy successor."

Santa Rosa Superintendent John Landis, who supported former Analy superintendent John McGrew in his campaign against Bacon, said Bacon was doing an excellent job. "We were very pleased with his leadership. He was working hard to correct the concerns of superintendents in the field about the county schools office."

"It may be impossible to replace Bacon, the man. I just don't know who's around to do that," Landis said.

Bacon was criticized during the campaign for lacking significant administrative experience in secondary education. One of his first moves as superintendent was to hire Geurts, who has a doctorate in education and was superintendent of Sonoma Valley Unified School District.

Bacon was born in Van Nuys. Before taking over as Mark West superintendent, Bacon was a school administrator in Orange County. He was either a school principal, district officer or superintendent for more than 26 years.

He was a Rotarian, a member of the boards of the Sonoma County Symphony and Boy Scouts.

In addition to his wife, he leaves his father, the Rev. Charles Bacon, of Cardiff; his children, Gayle Whitacre of Rohnert Park, Susan Bacon of Santa Rosa, Mark Bacon of Lakeport, Kristi Weber of Pleasant Hill, Nancy Chisom of Santa Rosa, Greg Weber of Chico and David Weber of Davis; his brothers, Raymond and Robert Bacon; his sisters, Evelyn Melavic and Elizabeth Brainard; and six grandchildren.

No services are planned. Contributions are preferred to favorite charities.

Reporting the Services of the Salvation Army in Santa Rosa and Sonoma County

FALL 1987

PARTNERS WITH GOD

I am amazed how God wondrously does His work through mortals like you and me. Having been in Santa Rosa for one year I have observed the marvel happening here, as well as in other appointments of my life space, as an officer of The Salvation Army.

During this year more people have been given volunteer service with us, more have been financial supporters, more have given real and personal property and more have helped than in any year of our 98 year history in Santa Rosa and Sonoma County. This year we have identified multiples of needs and then concentrated prayer on those needs for the Lord to help us establish correct priorities and provide resources to meet those needs.

Such items as use of a warehouse to be used as a Christmas Center; $16,000 toward replacing our old truck for the food distribution of about 25 tons of food per month; tons and tons of food and the money to buy supplemental items to nutritionally balance the food boxes. Also, the San Francisco Chronicle's major "Season of Sharing" money that helped people get off the street and into homes; the P.G.&E. REACH Program administered through the Army to help low income households meet the energy costs of their homes; individual donors that send the 5, 10, 25 and 100 dollar donations to keep our services available to people in need.

You, our donating/volunteering public, are "partners with the Lord" in helping us meet the needs of our community. To you we say "thank you and God bless you."

Ralph E. Hood, Jr.
Major
Commanding Officer

FOOD DISTRIBUTION CONTINUES

The request for food by hungry families has continued during the summer months as many still are unemployed or under-employed in Sonoma County. Referrals from many public and private agencies reflect the adjustments that are taking place in the economy and the labor market across the United States.

Reports from other Salvation Army units nationwide indicate similar conditions.

Continual evaluation of the need for food is being made by staff and the advisory board.

Final determination of the level of continued food distribution will be made when the reports are completed and all contributions are received from the Special Emergency Appeal made in July.

VOLUNTEER WORKERS SOUGHT

Many opportunities for volunteers to serve in the work of The Salvation Army are offered particularly at Christmas time.

Give us a call if you are interested.

THE WORLD SCENE

The far-flung Christian ministry of The Salvation Army now reaches to 87 countries of the world and uses 115 languages in its mission of helping and healing.

- Ghana - former leper colony now serving AIDS victims
- Zaire - leprosy clinic now reaching out to AIDS victims
- The Congo - now reports 10,000 soldiers (members) of The Salvation Army
- Guatemala - ten years after tragic earthquake, many Army centers are serving people in rural and metropolitan areas.
- Mexico - the caring ministry of Salvationists in the aftermath of Mexico City quake has resulted in great public understanding and response.
- Mainland China - the first western band to be invited since the Communist take-over is the Dulwich Hill Salvation Army band from Australia that will tour major China cities this Fall.
- Burma - reports of great growth in Army activities with many young Burmese presently being trained for officership.

GOD'S WORK ALWAYS HAS HIS BLESSING

CORRECTIONAL SERVICES IMPLEMENTED

The long tradition of serving prisoners and their families is being implemented in Sonoma County with the assignment of Brigadier Carl Andreasen for this ministry.

The Brigadier, a retired Salvation Army officer living in Santa Rosa, will be available for consultation with prisoners during incarceration and in planning for their return to family and employment.

The plight of prisoner's families will be of special concern. At Christmas the nationwide network of Army services contacts all prisoners in state institutions and serves to assure that these families are remembered with food and toys at the holiday season.

BOY SCOUTS "GOOD TURN DAY" ANNOUNCED

Continuing the emphasis on 'good turns' by all members of the scouting organization, Captain David Patrick, Administrator of the Adult Rehabilitation Center at Lytton, situated near Healdsburg and John Marshall of the district scout office announced this event will be held on Saturday, November 14.

In 1986 the scouts collected 90,000 lbs of clothing to be recycled for support of the work of the Center in rehabilitating men with substance abuse, domestic and personal problems.

A goal of 100,000 lbs has been set for the 1987 drive. Special bags will be delivered by scouts to residences in Lake, Mendocino and Sonoma counties. Collection centers are being established in each community where troop leaders will supervise pick-ups by Salvation Army trucks.

The Salvation Army salutes the Scouts for this practical expression of community service.

NEW OFFICER ASSISTANTS APPOINTED

Recently commissioned as Salvation Army Officers, Lieutenant and Mrs. Randall Clarke have been appointed to assist at the Santa Rosa corps.

Lieutenant Clarke met the Army in Roseburg, Oregon and soon found an opportunity for Christian service and in 1985 entered The School for Officers' Training at Rancho Palos Verdes in Southern California.

Mrs. Clarke is a "daughter of the regiment" in that her parents are Salvation Army officers.

The Lieutenant brings his professional skills in electronics as well as relationships with people in programs for youth and young adults.

Together with their young son Sam, the Clarkes are busily engaged in program activities serving in the Sonoma County area.

ETHNIC MINISTRY INCREASES

Reports from throughout the western United States, indicate great increases in outreach to a variety of ethnic groups.

14 Hispanics are cadets in the Officers' Training School in Southern California... many Chinese-Americans are becoming salvationists in San Francisco, Oakland and in the Los Angeles area... Laotian newcomers are being served in Seattle, Merced and Santa Rosa... Koreans are finding a church home and opportunities for service in Los Angeles, Tacoma and Spokane.

In Santa Rosa, a part-time staff position has now been created to serve the Laotian community with language and homemaking classes, cultural identification and worship experiences.

YOUTH SERVED DURING SUMMER

A great crowd of Sonoma children were taken as campers to the Army's Redwood Glen Camp for a week of never-to-be-forgotten adventure. A full program of hiking, nature study, camp lore, swimming and exciting campfire programs.

The lessons learned in group living, Bible study and meals designed to satisfy ravenous appetites made a real contribution to these youngsters.

Several children were privileged to attend the specialized Music Camp where skills in playing musical instruments, music theory and joining in youth ensembles were provided.

In addition, the "young in heart" were provided with a camping experience in the Redwoods at the Senior Citizens week of activities.

A number of residents of The Salvation Army operated Silvercrest Residence in Santa Rosa were among those enjoying the senior camp.

Funding for the summer camp program is provided in part by the contribution of donors to our annual camp appeal.

EMERGENCY APPEAL NEARS GOAL

The special appeal conducted during the month of July to provide funds to continue providing food for needy families in Sonoma County is nearing its goal of $75,000.

The loss of Revenue Sharing funds and reduction of United Way allocation made this emergency appeal necessary.

Generous gifts of money and pledges of contributions of food have encouraged Army leaders to hope the final realization of the campaign goal will permit continued full service. Emergency Appeal donations are still being received at P.O. Box 435, Santa Rosa, 95402.

NEW ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICES OPENED

Following long negotiations, Lyle Keller, advisory chairman announces the acquisition and remodeling of facilities for new offices at 1059 Second Street. In order to provide space for expanding human services the present building at 115 Pierce Street has been designated exclusively for program activities.

The newly acquired office space has been made possible by special gifts designated for this purpose.

The Army business phone remains as now listed, (707) 542-0981. The welfare offices are adjacent at 1061 Second Street. Friends of the organization are invited to stop by and visit the new offices. An Open House for the community will be held on November 17.

ARMY SALUTES UNITED WAY

The Salvation Army salutes United Way of America, Inc., on its one-hundredth anniversary. The Army has enjoyed a partnership with United Way in many communities across the country, both on funding services and professional level. In this area, the Army has a long association with the United Way of the North Bay and receives supplemental funding which represents 6% of our budget. We encourage friends of the Army to support the United Way in its current annual fund appeal.

P.O. Box 435

THANKS TO CHRISTMAS VOLUNTEER

Far from sparkling Christmas lights or rush of the holiday season, we acknowledge the year round effort of Jody Friedorff who dresses dolls for giving to needy children at Christmas. For many years she has dressed hundreds of dolls that have brought happiness to the children who look to the Army.

You may participate in this doll dressing program. Dolls may be delivered to the Army office at any time prior to Christmas.

STOP THE GREAT BUS ROBBERY

Laidlaw Transit, Inc., a $1.7 billion Canadian multinational corporation, runs Sonoma County Transit for a profit, a profit they will go to any length to protect. Sonoma County Transit drivers and mechanics feel the pain of Laidlaw's exploitation every day.

Laidlaw employees make substantially less than any comparable public transit workers in the area, have no sick leave, marginal health benefits, no retirement. Laidlaw employees want nothing other than simple economic justice -- a fair wage and benefit package for a fair day's work. Laidlaw is interested only in profit.

County transit workers have been trying in earnest for the last six months to reach agreement with Laidlaw on a new, fair contract. Laidlaw, on the other hand, has been unyielding in their drive to profit from Sonoma County tax dollars, no matter the price the workers, and the system, will pay.

Numbered among Laidlaw's bargaining tactics are frequent long delays between negotiating sessions, the use of armed guards to scare workers into accepting a bad offer, attempts at internal division between workers, routine harassment, disparate treatment of activist employees, and threats of physical violence.

Sonoma County residents are paying Laidlaw handsomely to run Sonoma County Transit. But Laidlaw is doing little other than running workers into the ground. Every year well over one-half the employees are forced to leave their jobs, overworked and unable to maintain a decent standard of living for their families. Meanwhile, Laidlaw continues to take local tax dollars out of our community permanently, in the form of profits, tax dollars that could be reinvested locally by the workers if they were fairly compensated.

Sonoma County seemingly has no control over its own public transit system. Stability, safety and reliability are taking a back seat to profits. Local workers, who care about their jobs and their community, are suffering at the hands of Laidlaw; our transit system is suffering at the hands of Laidlaw, yet we have no local control. Laidlaw is not a part of our community.

For the past three months, Laidlaw's County transit employees have been working without a contract. They have not enjoyed any wage or benefit improvements,

ALTO AL GRAN ROBO POR PARTE DE LA COMPANIA DE AUTOBUSES

"Laidlaw Transit, Inc.", una corporación multinacional canadiense de 1.7 billones, maneja los autobuses de el Condado de Sonoma (Sonoma County Transit) por grandes ganancias, ganancias que protegen a todo costo. Los choferes y los mecánicos de Sonoma County Transit sienten el dolor de la explotación por parte de Laidlaw diariamente.

Los trabajadores de Laidlaw ganan substancialmente menos que otros trabajadores del transporte público en esta area, no tienen protección cuando se enferman, beneficios de salud marginales, no tienen jubilación. Los trabajadores de Laidlaw no quieren otra cosa que una justicia económica. Un salario decente y prestaciones por parte de la compañía. Laidlaw esta sólo interesada en la plusvalia.

Los trabajadores del transporte del Condado han estado tratando por los últimos seis meses de obtener un acuerdo con Laidlaw por un nuevo contrato de trabajo. Laidlaw por otro lado, ha estado aprovechandose de su situación hasta lo máximo. Su único interés es sacar Ganancias de los impuestos de el Condado de Sonoma, sin importarle los trabajadores, al final quien paga por esto es el sistema de transporte.

Las numerosas tácticas de convenio por parte de Laidlaw son frecuentemente paralizados. El uso de guardias armados para intimidar a los trabajadores y así aceptar un contrato pobre. Los atentados de divisiones internas entre los trabajadores, hostigamiento constante, el tratamiento disparejo de activistas, y las amenazas de violencia física son provocados entre las sesiones de negociaciones.

Los residentes de el Condado de Sonoma le estan pagado muy bien a Laidlaw por manejar el Sonoma County Transit. No obstante Laidlaw esta forzando a los trabajadores a una situación pauperrima. Cada año más de la mitad de los trabajadores son forzados a salirse del trabajo, superexplotados y con problemas de mantener una vida de acuerdo con el costo de la vida. Mientras tanto Laidlaw continua cobrando sus ganancias provenientes de los impuestos locales, ganancias que son removidas de nuestra comunidad permanentemente, estos impuestos se podrian reinvertir en el salario de los trabajadores de una manera más justa.

Parece ser que el Condado de Sonoma no tiene ningún control sobre su mismo sistema de transporte público. La estabilidad, seguridad y autodependencia estan en último lugar cuando se trata de plusvalia. Los trabajadores locales que se preocupan por sus trabajos y la comunidad estan sufriendo en las manos de Laidlaw; nuestro sistema de transporte esta sufriendo en las manos de Laidlaw, aun así, no tenemos un control local. Laidlaw no es parte de nuestra comunidad.

Los trabajadores de Laidlaw han estado trabajando sin contrato colectivo por los últimos tres meses. No han recibido ningún beneficio ni aumento salarial, por el contrario. Sus condiciones de trabajo se han ido deteriorando. En realidad, nuevos trabajadores han sido contratados con un salario mucho más bajo que el antiguo contrato. Aun así, las autoridades públicas de el Condado de Sonoma han incrementado el precio del contrato con Laidlaw. En otras palabras, un incremento en plusvalias provenientes de los impuestos sacados de nuestra comunidad.

Nosotros no estamos de acuerdo con contratos llevados a cabo con compañía como Laidlaw con una póliza pública. No estamos de acuerdo en que los residentes de el Condado de Sonoma aprueben el abuso de los impuestos y la gente. Hasta ahora los trabajadores han estado luchando solos, una lucha que no es sólo para su protección, pero para el futuro de el transporte público y otros servicios públicos en nuestra comunidad. Ahora es tiempo de los residentes de esta condado para unirse a esta lucha.

Dear Executive Cabinet,

Having recently learned of the newly created position of Programming Commissioner, I hereby wish to inform you of my desire to fill this position. I feel I have the necessary qualifications, experience, and ability to be the Programming Commissioner.

I am currently the Legislative Commissioner for the Santa Rosa Junior College's College Student Assembly. I am becoming increasingly involved and interested in the politics and activities of the SRJC Student Body.

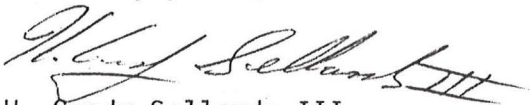

In addition to being Legislative Commissioner, I serve as the Chairperson for more involvement with the Petaluma Center. I am also on the Christmas Dance Committee, the Committee for More Student Involvement in Day Under the Oaks, and Parking Judiciary Board.

As many of you may know, I am a musician. I play the trombone, cello, piano, and various other instruments. As a musician, I am constantly exposed to the "core" of entertainment. I feel that a Programming Commissioner should have the experience of being an entertainer, as well as the knowledge of how to be entertained. In addition to the actual performance of music, I was a professional disk jockey for two years. The constant demand of keeping up with new music, time schedules, etc., has taught me the organization skills I believe necessary for a position such as this.

I was an active participant on my high schools Prom Committee. It was my responsibility to find and select a suitable band or disk Jockey for the occasion. Through this experience, I have conversed and hired bands, DJ's, and various other entertainers.

As you may be aware, I am planning to run in the Spring for Executive Vice-President. I feel that the experience of Executive Cabinet would be of unquestionable value and preparation. I would be glad to provide you with any political, academic, professional, or personal references you may need.

Sincerely yours,

H. Grady Sellards III
Legislative Commissioner

9 December 1987

I would like to present this proposal to you in response to the currently open office of Programming Person on SRJC's Executive Cabinet. This is definitely an indication of exciting happenings in Student Government, and I am enthusiastic about making a greater contribution to this group.

As A.S.B.O.O.T.M. recipient for the month of September, I am confident that you have seen examples of my organizational and communicative skills as I work with others in action. Briefly I will inform you of some of my past experiences as related to this office.

My senior year at Santa Ana Valley High School in Santa Ana, I headed the Student Activities Publicity Department as Commissioner of Publicity. Outside of school, I learned how to interact with entertainment personalities in and outside of the recording studio and sound stage. As a result, I have access to experienced professionals in Los Angeles.

I am planning to attend SRJC through the spring of 1989. While I am here, I am willing to further utilize my time and talents for the greater good of this organization. I anticipate that the coming year will be a busy and exciting one, making events happen for the ASB.

My main objective, if appointed to this office, is to encourage greater student involvement here at SRJC; by having more events, like concerts, on campus for students to come and participate in. I believe that we can offer high caliber entertainment to students here and save them an hour drive to San Francisco. I believe that ASB card sales would increase along with greater student involvement.

I have a variety of creative and artistic talents that can be applied to this office. My choice of major is the Communications field and I plan to direct this study toward my career goal of becoming an Executive Vice President (Artist and Repertory division) within the Recording Industry. Over the past 3 years I have developed a network of experienced professionals within the Music and Film Industry. As you can see I have already made an investment of my personal time and talent and I desire to share what I have to offer with you and the Associated Students of this school. If you have any questions or concerns I will furnish you with a list of references you can reach by telephone.

Respectfully,

Nancy Marie Williams

NATIONAL NACA

The NACA Regional Conference was the most beneficial tool that we've had the privilege of using while in college. We were able to take advantage of seven different Educational Sessions that were designed to meet our political and personal needs at that time. Cyndi Fischer and I didn't feel that this was merely a learning experience intended solely for school, but rather, a growing process in our every day lives. If that much energy emanates from a Regional Conference, how much more could be gained from a National Conference. We feel that whoever is selected will benefit both scholastically and personally no matter what school they may attend.

One of the guidelines for the National Conference is that the students would be able to share their experiences with CSA members in the year to come. Cyndi and I believe that we could affectively convey our knowledge with others, and become better leaders in the process.

Because we will only be at Santa Rosa Junior College until the Spring of 89, we would like to propose to Executive Cabinet that you pay for one of us and we will pay for the other one. This would allow ASB to send three representatives for the price of two. With one more person backing our school at the National level, we will increase our Leadership capacity.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR CONSIDERATION

I would like to be considered for one of two delegates representing SRJC at the NACA National Conference held in Washington D.C. February 16-21, 1988. I am confident that I could well represent our student government in this event.

In the year following the conference that I will be attending SRJC, I plan to expand my present commitment to this organization, by taking on a role of leadership, hopefully the position of Programming Person in Executive Cabinet.

I have gained much from attending the NACA Far West Regional Conference in Los Angeles last month. I established a set of solid contacts that I have maintained up to this moment. As a result I have recieved invitations from Ty Braswell (Representative of "Duo Guardbarrancos/ Salvador Buscos and Jackson Browne's Manager), Jim Honeyman (Manager of "Slow Burn"), Mary Stuyvesant (Representative for the "Paladins") and Teddy Zambetti (Manager of "Eckey Thump") to come see their groups as a guest. Also I am in the final stages of compiling a "report" of what I learned in NACA Far West, consisting of: Summaries of the educational sessions I attended, hand-outs, and supplemental information pertaining to the subject matter. I anticipate that it will be finished by the end of this week. This pamphlet will benefit you and CSA as a whole by having valuable information at your fingertips.

If I were to be appointed to the position of Programming Person, attending this conference would have a direct positive affect in my job performance. It is important to know what is available in the marketplace and also to stay abreast of trends in Programming. I am confident, that the considerable investment of ASB funds would be one worthwhile, because it is my desire to give as much as I possibly can to this organization.

Sincerely,

Nancy Marie Williams

Dear Executive Cabinet:

I would like to take this time to convey my interest in the National NACA Conference. In my opinion, a conference experience is important for any active member of a governmental body. I believe that I have shown my interest and involvement in College Student Assembly since our first meeting.

As some of you may know, I am intending to run in the spring for Executive Vice President. This conference would be an invaluable experience for me. I have given my application to the Executive Cabinet for the liaison position of Programming Commissioner. I believe the responsibilities of the Programming Commissioner would make this conference a must.

I intend to be an active participant in CSA for a minimum of three more semesters. I feel that I can effectively convey the experience I would gain from attending the conference with the members of College Student Assembly.

I would be glad to provide any character, professional or personal references you may need.

Thank you for considering my letter.

Sincerely yours,

Dear members of the Executive Cabinet

I would like to take this opportunity to convey my desire and motives for attending the national NACA conference being held in Washington D.C.

I believe that the Executive Cabinet, the core of this ASB, should be composed of people with a solid set of the leadership, organizing, motivating skills and techniques studied in the workshops of such a conference. Because I am a new member (real new!) of the Executive Cabinet, I am the only member without such experience. I have striven to take every possible opportunity to aquire "hands on" experience, but I feel that this conference would provide me with leadership training that, in my opinion, is necessary to be a well-rounded leader.

This is no small investment, and the long range benefits of this decision need to be taken into consideration. It would be a waste of money to send someone who would be leaving this organization as soon as this year or next. I am planning to be an active participant in student activities for the entire time I will be attending SRJC, which will be for the next five semesters.

I believe that the ASB would get the most out of this conference by selecting me to go. The ASB would benefit now by providing training for someone in a leadership position and continue to benefit from my experience for another two and one half years.

I believe those are the two most important factors governing your decision, but something else to consider is that whoever goes to NACA will be representing our entire organization in the eyes of the other students there. I believe I would give good representation because I meet people easily and get along with them well.

I again urge you to select me. I believe I am the best choice! It's a lot of money, so consider carefully!

Respectfully

Dear Fellow Members of Executive Cabinet:

As you may or may not be aware prior to the receipt of this letter, I would like the opportunity to represent the SRJC ASB at the National NACA Conference scheduled to be held in Washington, D. C., in February, 1988.

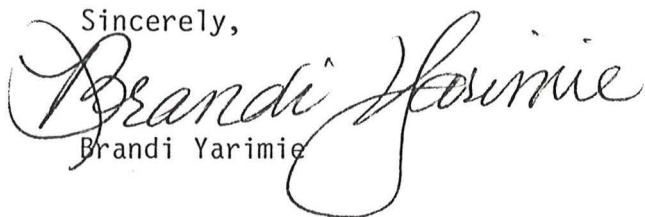

I realize that I have already been to two of the NACA conferences, the Programming West and the Regional. However, I feel that they have put me in a more advanced range for learning what the National has to offer.

I intend to attend SRJC next year and to run for either an executive office or the office of Student Trustee in the Spring '88 elections. I plan to chair the Boat Dance Committee and to be a main part of the Fall '88 Retreat. Additionally, it is my intent to give a great deal of my time to the NACA Spring Drive-In and I would hope to learn from the National a good way to accomplish this. (By the way, I think it would be a good idea for us to take charge of Registration.)

I know that my knowledge would be enhanced by attending this conference and I would enjoy bringing back new ideas to share with the students for good use. Given the chance, I would do my best to represent our school.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Brandi Yarimie". The signature is fluid and stylized, with the first name "Brandi" being more prominent than the last name "Yarimie".

STUDENT GOVERNMENT RESOLUTION CONCERNING SONOMA COUNTY TRANSIT DRIVERS

WHEREAS, the Sonoma County transit system provides an essential means of transportation for SRJC students; and

WHEREAS, an effective mass transit system is a valuable resource to the citizens of Sonoma County in addressing the County's present and future transportation problems; and

WHEREAS, the current labor strife at Sonoma County Transit is indicative of deficiencies in the operation of the system and undermines stability, safety, and reliability;

Now, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the SRJC Student Government expresses its concern over the failure of the current system operator to reach a fair agreement with the drivers and mechanics of Sonoma County Transit, and urges all appropriate government agencies and other concerned community groups to take action to eliminate inequities in the treatment of the system's employees and to ensure a stable, safe, and reliable mass transit system in Sonoma County.

STOP THE GREAT BUS ROBBERY

Laidlaw Transit, Inc., a $1.7 billion Canadian multinational corporation, runs Sonoma County Transit for a profit, a profit they will go to any length to protect. Sonoma County Transit drivers and mechanics feel the pain of Laidlaw's exploitation every day.

Laidlaw employees make substantially less than any comparable public transit workers in the area, have no sick leave, marginal health benefits, no retirement. Laidlaw employees want nothing other than simple economic justice -- a fair wage and benefit package for a fair day's work. Laidlaw is interested only in profit.

County transit workers have been trying in earnest for the last six months to reach agreement with Laidlaw on a new, fair contract. Laidlaw, on the other hand, has been unyielding in their drive to profit from Sonoma County tax dollars, no matter the price the workers, and the system, will pay.

Numbered among Laidlaw's bargaining tactics are frequent long delays between negotiating sessions, the use of armed guards to scare workers into accepting bad offer, attempts at internal division between workers, routine harassment, disparate treatment of activist employees, and threats of physical violence.

Sonoma County residents are paying Laidlaw handsomely to run Sonoma County Transit. But Laidlaw is doing little other than running workers into the ground. Every year well over one-half the employees are forced to leave their jobs, overworked and unable to maintain a decent standard of living for their families. Meanwhile, Laidlaw continues to take local tax dollars out of our community permanently, in the form of profits, tax dollars that could be reinvested locally by the workers if they were fairly compensated.

Sonoma County seemingly has no control over its own public transit system. Stability, safety and reliability are taking a back seat to profits. Local workers, who care about their jobs and their community, are suffering at the hands of Laidlaw; our transit system is suffering at the hands of Laidlaw, yet we have no local control. Laidlaw is not a part of our community.

For the next three months, Laidlaw's County transit employees have been work-

ALTO AL GRAN ROBO POR PARTE DE LA COMPANIA DE AUTOBUSES

"Laidlaw Transit, Inc.", una corporación multinacional canadiense de 1.7 billones, maneja los autobuses de el Condado de Sonoma (Sonoma County Transit) por grandes ganancias, ganancias que protegen a todo costo. Los choferes y los mecánicos de Sonoma County Transit sienten el dolor de la explotación por parte de Laidlaw diariamente.

Los trabajadores de Laidlaw ganan substancialmente menos que otros trabajadores del transporte público en esta area, no tienen protección cuando se enferman, beneficios de salud marginales, no tienen jubilación. Los trabajadores de Laidlaw no quieren otra cosa que una justicia económica. Un salario decente y prestaciones por parte de la compañía. Laidlaw esta sólo interesada en la plusvalia.

Los trabajadores del transporte del Condado han estado tratando por los últimos seis meses de obtener un acuerdo con Laidlaw por un nuevo contrato de trabajo. Laidlaw por otro lado, ha estado aprovechandose de su situación hasta lo máximo. Su único interés es sacar Ganancias de los impuestos de el Condado de Sonoma, sin importarle los trabajadores, al final quien paga por esto es el sistema de transporte.

Las numerosas tácticas de convenio por parte de Laidlaw son frecuentemente paralizados. El uso de guardias armados para intimidar a los trabajadores y así aceptar un contrato pobre. Los atentados de divisiones internas entre los trabajadores, hostigamiento constante, el tratamiento disparejo de activistas, y las amenazas de violencia física son provocados entre las sesiones de negociaciones.

Los residentes de el Condado de Sonoma le estan pagado muy bien a Laidlaw por manejar el Sonoma County Transit. No obstante Laidlaw esta forzando a los trabajadores a una situación pauperrima. Cada año más de la mitad de los trabajadores son forzados a salirse del trabajo, superexplotados y con problemas de mantener una vida de acuerdo con el costo de la vida. Mientras tanto Laidlaw continua cobrando sus ganancias provenientes de los impuestos locales, ganancias que son removidas de nuestra comunidad permanentemente, estos impuestos se podrian reinvertir en el salario de los trabajadores de una manera más justa.

Parece ser que el Condado de Sonoma no tiene ningún control sobre su mismo sistema de transporte público. La estabilidad, seguridad y autodependencia estan en último lugar cuando se trata de plusvalia. Los trabajadores locales que se preocupan por sus trabajos y la comunidad estan sufriendo en las manos de Laidlaw; nuestro sistema de transporte esta sufriendo en las manos de Laidlaw, aun así, no tenemos un control local. Laidlaw no es parte de nuestra comunidad.

Los trabajadores de Laidlaw han estado trabajando sin contrato coléctivo por los últimos tres meses. No han recibido ningún beneficio ni aumento salarial, por el contrario. Sus condiciones de trabajo se han ido deteriorando. En realidad, nuevos trabajadores han sido contratados con un salario mucho más bajo que el antiguo contrato. Aun así, las autoridades públicas de el Condado de Sonoma han incrementado el precio del contrato con Laidlaw. En otras palabras, un incremento en plusvalias provenientes de los impuestos sacados de nuestra comunidad.

Nosotros no estamos de acuerdo con contratos llevados a cabo con compañías como Laidlaw con una póliza pública. No estamos de acuerdo en que los residentes de el Condado de Sonoma aprueben el abuso de los impuestos y la gente. Hasta ahora los trabajadores han estado luchando solos, una lucha que no es sólo para su protección, pero para el futuro de el transporte público y otros servicios públicos en nuestra comunidad. Ahora es tiempo de los residentes de esta condado para unirse a esta lucha.

P E T I T I O N

TO THE SONOMA COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS:

The privatization of the Sonoma County Transit system has undermined the quality of mass transit in our community, and has resulted in abuses to the employees, our fellow citizens, who are crucial to the safe and reliable delivery of services.

We therefore petition the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors, whose responsibility it is to oversee Sonoma County Transit, to take all steps necessary to achieve labor peace, work force stability, and a safe and civil working environment for these members of our community.

We further urge the Board to explore alternatives to the current method of operating county transit, as the result has been labor strife, compromised quality, and a loss of revenues for Sonoma County.

The Planetarium will present its annual holiday show, December 11, 12 and 18-22. ## SRJC Foster Parent Coordinator Lobbies for Adoptees in Sacramento

Vicki Vidak, coordinator of Santa Rosa Junior College's Foster Parent Training Program, has been named to serve on the Adoption Committee of the Children's Research Institute of California.

The Institute functions as the think tank branch of the California's Children's Lobby which is located in Sacramento.

"The goal of the committee is to recommend ways to increase adoptions of special needs children in California," Vidak explained. "There has been a 22.5% increase in the number of kids entering foster care since 1981 and it appears that as many as 75% of them are not able to achieve permanent stability with their birth parents."

The majority of children in foster care and in need of adoption are classified as "special needs" by virtue of their age, race or disabling condition, Vidak said.

"The committee will evaluate current adoption processes and practices and identify barriers," she said. "A model adoption plan for the state will be developed and recommendations will be made for legislative changes."

Vidak, a resident of Santa Rosa for 15 years, is also co-founder of Partners for Adoption and is a graduate of the Leadership Santa Rosa program, developed by Santa Rosa's Chamber of Commerce.

Malvino spent the month of July as a counselor and guest lecturer to 39 U.S. college students on a study program of international finance and marketing in the Common Market in Europe. Malvino finished the summer by spending three weeks in August on a fact-finding trip to Nicaragua and Honduras. The itinerary included dialogue with government officials, religious leaders, peasants, labor leaders, health and human rights organizations, educators and the military. Visits included development projects, agricultural cooperatives, schools, refugee camps of the Contras, Sandanista and opposition political parties.

The grant, amounting to 4,800 Swedish crowns (approximately $750) is an acknowledgment of Emblen's completion of a retrospective volume of translations of poems drawn from twelve of Aspenstrom's books published from 1946 to 1983. Although widely acknowledged in Europe as one of Sweden's most important living poets, Aspenstrom is not well-known in the U.S. Emblen's volume is the first substantial selection of Aspenstrom's poetry to be published in English. Emblen studied the Swedish language and literature during a sabbatical leave in Lund, Sweden, in 1972-73, and has worked on the Aspenstrom poems as they appeared in new volumes through the intervening years.

ART in Instructional Office

Art student Ruben Lovato will be exhibiting three untitled oil paintings in the Instructional Office through January 8. Lovato will graduate from SRJC after the fall '87 semester and plans to transfer to the San Francisco Academy of Art in the spring.

note: The Chancellor's Office has changed the enrollment fee structure for the spring semester. The fee for 0-9.5 units is $5.00 per unit, and a flat $50.00 for 10 or more units. Previously the flat $50.00 fee started at the 6 unit level.

Board Honors Lynn Garlock as December Employee of the Month

Lynn Garlock, Telecommunications/Account clerk in the Business Services Department and an employee of SRJC since 1984, was named "Employee of the Month" for December by the college's Board of Trustees.

Garlock will be honored at the December 14 Board meeting, where she will be presented with a plaque and two free SRT tickets.

A native of Sonoma County, Garlock was born in Santa Rosa. After graduating from Montgomery High School in 1979 she attended SRJC to obtain her A.A. degree in general education.

While Garlock attended SRJC she worked as a student employee for two years in purchasing and one year in accounting. She then left the campus to work for a dentist, but she soon realized that was not her line of work. She also explained "I missed working at the college." When she returned, she was offered the job of Telecommunications/Account clerk.

"The main reason I accepted the job was because of the people, and the opportunities SRJC gives staff members to get involved," said Garlock.

Garlock enjoys meeting new people and especially enjoys the interaction with students. She has contributed many hours of her personal time to district-sponsored events, projects like the Rose Parade float, Day Under The Oaks, and the Halloween parade. She is also involved with SCOPE, the Advisory Council, and the Fringe Benefits committee.

Many people assume her only responsibility is staffing the information desk. Garlock assures that her job involves much more. She is in charge of mail and information operations and coordinates telephone installations along with repairs of the system. Over the years she has learned to do some of the repairs and installations herself.

Garlock lives in Sebastopol with her husband Bill and her cat "Spuddy." They spend most of their free time working on their 15 acre Christmas tree farm in Sebastopol, where they are planning to build a new home in the near future. However, they also enjoy watching the 49'ers, skiing, fishing, or doing what Garlock calls her favorite thing of all, shopping.

"Employee of the Month' is a nice acknowledgment of SRJC employees," adding "I was surprised and flattered to receive this award because of the number of employees on campus who also deserve recognition" said Garlock.

Chris Leivas, District Accountant, nominated Garlock for the award. His letter was supported by 41 signatures from staff members.

Leivas wrote in his nomination letter: "Lynn coordinates the information desk and switchboard functions for the District. These functions are very important because her interaction with the public helps to maintain the District's positive image. Her greatest asset is her pleasant, optimistic attitude. I believe Lynn Garlock would be an excellent choice for Employee of the Month."

World Trade Association Attracts BAD & SAM Students

The North Bay World Trade Association, a non-profit organization dedicated to promoting international trade in the North Bay and Redwood Empire, came into being this year with the help of SRJC business administration instructor Gene Malvino. Malvino, who represents SRJC on the organization's steering committee, reports that more than 80 people attended the first N.B.W.T.A. meeting in October, including interested students from the Business Department's SAM club and BAD 63 (International Business) class. Malvino said the idea of coordinating N.B.W.T.A. activities with SRJC's Contract Instruction Program and Business Administration Department courses is currently being explored.

The Association holds a luncheon meeting bi-monthly where experts in various aspects of international trade are scheduled to speak.

For more information contact Gene Malvino at 542-2084 or Astrid Harper at 838-4841.

Applicant Pool May Speed Part-Time Hiring

Applicant pools of qualified, part-time instructors for the Vocational Studies and Business Office Technology Departments are now being formed by the college's Personnel Office.

To join an applicant pool, an individual must complete an employment application and submit three letters of reference and transcripts. Applicants will be screened and qualified applicants will be interviewed by members of the departments. Those applicants who are recommended for hire will join the applicant pool. Part-time instructors for Vocational Studies and Business Office Technology positions will be selected from the applicant pools.

"Those people in the applicant pool will have completed almost all of the necessary paperwork," explained Marie Thompson from Personnel.

Those who do not already have a credential will have their applications reviewed to determine whether or not they would qualify for a credential, but will not have to spend the money to apply for a credential until they are actually hired, she said.

An instructor's application will remain in the applicant pool indefinitely, Thompson said, and may be updated by the applicant regularly.

The applicant pools should make it easier for departments to hire part-time instructors, particularly in situations where there isn't much advance warning, such as when a new section is added to handle additional students, Thompson said.

For more information about how to join an applicant pool for the Vocational Studies or Business Office Technology Departments, call SRJC's Personnel Office, 527-4302.

T.E.C.

PROPOSAL B: PROJECT BULLETIN BOARD

Fall Semester 1987

Bulletin Board Proposal

bulletin board, a wall area or a board conspicuously placed on which announcements are posted, as in offices, clubs, etc.

The Engineering Club would like to propose that a bulletin board be placed in the engineering/math department to allow students easy access to information of upcoming A.S.B. and T.E.C. events. The proposed site is in an area of heavy student traffic, thus allowing the information to not only benefit technical-major students, but the general student body as well. The bulletin board would be used for A.S.B. and campus events as well as T.E.C. announcements, and would not be open to non-club uses such as want ads, etc. T.E.C. members would undertake the construction and placement of the board and would also be in charge of its maintenance. T.E.C. would like to ask the A.S.B. to help pay for this relatively in-expensive project.

Dimensions: The proposed board would measure three by five feet, giving enough room for both campus and club events.

Cost: The cost of this project will be kept fairly low due to the fact T.E.C. members will be responsible for its construction and hence will only need to purchase some raw materials. It is estimated the board will require the following:

4x8 sheet of 1/2 in. plywood	15.00
3x5 sheet of cork board	15.00
16 ft. of beveled wood molding	10.00
2 yds. of neutral tone burlap	7.00
Miscellaneous hardware	3.00

Total: $50.00

Maintenance will, of course, put up the board as per Junior College regulations.

NOTE: The Engineering Club has agreed to finance the purchase of thumb tacks and opening day celebration party.
